Whitewater Boating is an inherently dangerous activity which requires training, caution, good physical condition, knowlege of equipment, and common sense. Whitewater Boaters understand that the final decision on all river activities (including the decision to run or not to run a rapid) is the responsibility of each individual boater. Each paddler is ultimately responsible for his or her own safety. I hereby relieve the organization known as the "Merrimack Valley Paddlers", its members, and anyone connected with the club in any capacity of all claims of any nature. I understand that this includes the release from liability for any injury to my person or property resulting from participation in any club function. I have read and understand the above warning.
